Overview

The renovation of Villa Ciottolo has preserved the ancient charm and architectural features of the original building; the style, simple and neat, produces a relaxing atmosphere for guests.

The internal spaces, once used as processing sites for agricultural products, shelter for animals and the house of the "massaro" (farmer), now accommodates six large bedrooms, a large dining room adjacent to the kitchen, a reading room and a TV room.

Crossing the threshold of the Villa, the guests will be excited to spend the holiday in such a unique place, which still holds the charm of the past and keep within its walls the secrets of the farmers who lived there.

On the first floor, climbing the ancient stairs of the farm, there are two bedrooms. These rooms have a balcony overlooking the vast olive grove on one side, and the lush garden on the other.

There's a swimming pool, built in the respect of the landscape, where you can have full privacy, relax and enjoy the sun in complete tranquility.

A wonderful part of the garden is the portico, where guests can listen to the chirping of birds, admire the colors of nature and smell the scents of flowers and fruits in the garden while sitting on comfortable garden furniture.
